

Andrew Coen, CPA, MT, CLU, ChFC

President

Business Accomplishments

With more than twenty years experience responding to the needs of business and not-for-profit entities, Andrew Coen brings vast knowledge to the helm of Norman, Jones, Enlow & Co. In addition to overseeing firm operations as Chief Executive Officer, Coen works extensively on Construction Group activities and not-for-profit associations.

A central Ohio native, Coen joined Norman, Jones, Enlow & Co. in 1978, after several years of diverse experience in taxation with Ernst & Young and accounting and auditing with Deloitte & Touche, two of the largest accounting firms in the country.

He earned an undergraduate business degree and master's degree in Taxation from the University of Denver. He also has taken post graduate course work from the University of Michigan, School of Business Administration, and is a Chartered Life Underwriter, and Chartered Financial Consultant.

Recognitions and Affiliations

Coen has taught a multitude of continuing education courses throughout his career, and has held several statewide leadership posts for the Ohio Society of Certified Public Accountants. He has been published extensively in accounting-related journals as well as in the general media and business magazines. His other professional memberships include the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, and the Ohio Society of Certified Public Accountants.

Community Involvement

A past member of the Board of Directors of the Rotary Club of Reynoldsburg/Pickerington, past president of the Reynoldsburg Area Chamber of Commerce and former President of the Friends of the Library of Columbus and Franklin County. Coen formerly served on the board of the Suburban East YMCA and is also a board member of the Associated Builders and Contractors of Central Ohio.