

Michelle Roseberry, CPA, CIT

Vice President of Construction Division

Business Accomplishments

Michelle Roseberry has accounting experience in both public and private industry accounting. Prior to joining Norman, Jones, Enlow & Co., she worked in corporate accounting where she implemented an internal audit program and procedures. Her background includes employment at a heavy equipment company as a senior accountant, managing its fixed assets and preparing reconciliations.

Her role at Norman, Jones, Enlow & Co. is working with clients in the construction and various other industries and with employee benefit plans.

Roseberry earned her bachelor's degree from Capital University in 1995.

Recognitions and Affiliations

Roseberry is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the Ohio Society of Certified Public Accountants, Builders Exchange, and the Construction Finance Management Association. She actively participates in the National Association for Women in Construction as President of the Columbus Chapter.

Community Involvement

Roseberry contributes her time to various church and community activities.